You may have heard about a great human friend of ours Dr Salim Ali. He had even suggested that we should be given the status of the National Bird of our country but the honour went to our beautiful relative – the peacock. I am happy to tell you that I am the state bird of Rajasthan. We have got ten sanctuaries for our protection but sadly, our number is still going down. We used to live in all parts India

But slowly the growing population of man pushed us away from more than 90 percent of our home regions. We are afraid of hunters that kill us for fun. We also die due to electric power lines that we can't see while flying. We are losing homes. Today only the last 200 of us are left in the world. We need your support and love in order to survive. Can you help us?
